TRANSFER OF MINING STOCK IS SET ASIDE

A decision in the important case of M. B. Aston against A. H. Howe, C. R. Evans, W. S. Norris and the Wall Street Copper company was handed down by Judge J. Emmett Walsh in the district court at 5 o'clock Saturday evening. The plaintiff sought in this action, according to the opinion given by Judge Walsh in rendering his decision, "to obtain a judgment against the defendants, adjudicating him to be the owner of 37,500 shares of the capital stock of the Wall Street Copper company, together with the earnings on said stock from the date of the sale and transfer of the same; also that an accounting be had of all ores mined and marketed, together with the expense of mining and marketing said ores, and that he be given judgment for such sum ascertained to be due after said account shall have been taken."

Judge Walsh ordered that the defendants render an account in accordance with the prayer of the plaintiff's complaint.

This decision in effect sets aside the sale and transfer by Aston to Howe, Evans and Norris for $15,000 and also invalidates and renders null and void the release executed by Aston to the defendants in June, 1917, and requires an accounting from the defendants of all ores mined and marketed, together with the expense of mining and marketing, during the entire period the Wall Street Copper company was in operation.—Tribune.

OLD SILVERPAH MINE SHOWING ORE RESERVES

New Buildings Being Erected at Seat of Operations for the Accommodation Miners.

Operations are going steadily forward on the old Silverpah property on Lone Mountain, and it is hoped to have the workings in condition by early spring, whereby regular shipments can be inaugurated. At present a force of men is being employed in constructing a new bank house of comfortable proportions while some development is going forward through one of the shafts that has a present depth of 50 feet. As soon as the accommodations have been completed it is the intention of R. H. Morrill, manager of the Silverpah Mining company, to lower the shaft to the 200-foot level with a view of proving up the ore reserves of the property.

In the bottom of the 50-foot shaft there is a 2-foot vein of ore showing that carries values averaging around $50 a ton in silver, and the product can be mined and milled at a good margin of profit.

The Silverpah mine is located on the southeast slope of Lone Mountain, 24 miles from Tonopah. It was credited with quite a heavy production a number of years ago.

PURE CLASSIC IS DISCOVERED FIELD MUSEUM

CHICAGO, Mar. 7.—One corner of the old Field Museum in Jackson Park, formerly the Fine Arts Palace of the Columbian Exposition, is to be restored by the American Society of Architects in an effort to raise funds for the restoration of the entire structure, said to be the finest example of pure classic structure in North America.

Six thousand Chicago clubwomen are raising the money necessary to restore the pavilion at the northeast tip of the building to its original state. The work will cost $75,000. A campaign will then be undertaken to finance the remainder of the work, using the restored pavilion as an example of what can be done.

The vast building has stood empty since the Field Museum moved to its new home in Grant Park a year ago. The ravages of thirty winters, with their lake gales, have left indelible marks in crumbling plaster walls. The restoration is to be done in water proof cement.

OLD FRIENDS.

By Mrs. Hugh Henry Brown.

Today Tonopah is mourning the loss of another old friend. Year after year takes its toll, and those of us who are left behind look back into the past with eyes that glisten with unshed moisture and with hearts that somehow ache, albeit we would not bring them back.

"What is it about old friends that makes them so valuable? What is it that makes it so hard to give them up? Alas Death is the kindest thing that takes them from us. There is another kind of loss far harder to bear—the misunderstanding, the misapplication of conduct, the mistrust, the something that tells us they were not proof against the vicissitudes of human association—Ah, those are the things that cut! Beside them, the gentle hand of age at the tragic hand of accident touch with kindly fingers.

But, whatever the cause, we give them up reluctantly. They seem to cling to us with their failing strength, looking back to us longingly, hopefully or trustfully, mayhaps, asking that we shall not forget them, bidding us carry on their work, seeking to leave a bit of themselves in our grasp—and there we have the secret of our pain. It is because they have given us a bit of themselves that they take a bit of our life away with them. In the full blast of the world's bitter indifference it is the warmth of our lost friends that we clutch to us. It is their love that is proof against all change. Their understanding is immortal. The strength of their belief in us is invulnerable. They are ours forever. Deep in the inner shrine we hold them into eternity.

And so, good-bye old friends! Do not grieve because our eyes are wet. In our hearts we smile as we speed you on your way. We have touched you—we have known you—we have loved you—we have made you our own, and now we bid you God-speed. In full knowledge that life is eternal, that progress is ever upward and that all you longed to leave behind you will be treasured in deep remembrance.

TREASURE HILL HAS IMPORTANT MINERAL FIND

Discovery Made in Extending North Crosscut From 100 Level of Shaft.

An important find has just been made on the Treasure Hill property at Silverton, according to Joseph Tompkins, who returned last night from that camp where he had been for several days, watching developments. The discovery was made in driving the crosscut from the 100 level of the new shaft workings, and at a distance of 50 feet a cross vein was intersected, which shows eight feet of highly mineralized vein matter. While no assays have been made at this writing it is believed that commercial values are contained, considering will be continued to develop the property.

When no weather conditions will permit this property will be equipped with modern plant of machinery and everything put in readiness for an extended campaign of development and it is to be prosecuted throughout the summer months. It is understood that the financial end of the difficulties have been met and that the Treasure Hill Nevada Mining company will be supplied with the necessary capital to thoroughly develop this promising mineral estate. Sinking of the shaft to a depth of 200 feet has been decided upon as one of the first undertakings.

SCOTT KELLY HAS GONE TO REWARD

Scott Kelly, 31 years of age, well and favorably known throughout southern Nevada and a resident of both Manhattan and Tonopah for many years, died this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at the Mine Operators hospital. Death resulted from pneumonia.

Scott Kelly was a veteran of the late world war, having joined the American forces. He was an expert miner and while he did not see service across seas, outside of Honolulu, his services were used in training others as miners. Besides being stationed in the Hawaiian Islands, he was stationed at San Francisco, California, and Tulsa, Oklahoma, at various times.

Deceased is survived by a father, James Kelly, former justice of the peace at Manhattan, but who is now residing at Sacramento, California; a wife residing in St. Louis to whom he was united in marriage four months ago, and two brothers, Donald of Tonopah and Lester of Fort Worth, Texas. No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

POPE BENEDICT LUCID IN LAST MOMENTS LIFE

By Associated Press.

ROME, Mar. 7. Some incidents of the last two days of the illness of the late Pope Benedict XV, have just become known. At intervals he was delirious and these were followed by periods of lucidity. He talked to the prelates at his bedside about various subjects so widely different with so little pause between them that they were unable always to discern whether he was in full possession of his faculties.

A few minutes after he had told Professor Battistini, "I would gladly give my life for the peace of the world," he turned to Cardinal Gasparri and said: "One of my greatest regrets upon leaving this earth is that I shall not live to see the completion of the statue to Rampolla, my great Master."

At another moment, evidently thinking of his nephew, Della Chiesa, who had insisted upon seeing the Pope in spite of his own serious illness, he kept repeating, "Poor boy, poor boy, who knows whether he has enough money to pay the cab to bring him here." The Della Chiesa are considered to be fairly well-to-do.

FATE OF GUTIERREZ SOON TO BE KNOWN

The fate of Trinidad Gutierrez, charged with the murder of Eamon J. Perez on the night of December 20 last, will probably be submitted to the jury before adjournment of court this afternoon. The testimony introduced at the trial has been on the same lines as related several times in this paper, and is to the effect that the two men engaged in a rock fight, and that Perez died as a result of a fractured skull. Rosario, Pachu testified yesterday to Perez finding a piece of iron pipe on the afternoon of the day the fight occurred, and this pipe was introduced in evidence to show that the man intended bodily harm to the person of Gutierrez.

FUNERAL MISS BROWN IS LARGELY ATTENDED

Hundreds of young people, school-mates of Miss Garnet Lorene Brown, who died at the family home on Belmont avenue on Sunday morning, assembled at the Episcopal church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to pay silent tribute to one whom they had loved and admired during this life. The bier was buried beneath an avalanche of floral offerings, showing the esteem in which this popular young girl had been held by her friends and associates.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. G. G. Holsholt, rector of the Episcopal church, who offered sweet words of consolation to the sorrowing father and mother and sisters, as well as those who knew the departed for her true worth during this life. The office was filled with young and old who were present to pay their last respects to this young woman, whose span of life was snapped just as she was entering into the bloom of womanhood. Although a resident of Tonopah only six months, she had endeared herself to a multitude of people, both old and young, and all grieve with the relatives in their hour of sorrow.

A large cortege followed the remains to the local cemetery, the pallbearers being members of the Junior and senior classes of the Tonopah high school, and following short services at the grave, the remains were tenderly laid to rest.

AMUSEMENTS

ALICE BRADY IN "HUSH MONEY" TODAY

"Hush Money," which will be shown at the Butler today, with Alice Brady in the leading role, is the story of a girl who had been brought up to believe that money can square anything as well as buy anything. The week before her marriage she is involved in an affair which her father and her fiancé wish hushed up. But the girl, with her conscience awake for the first time in her life, insists upon assuming her moral responsibility in the matter, even though to do so she has to break with her father and her lover. In the end both men come to see that their hard creed is a false one, and they surrender unconditionally to the young woman's opinion that hush money is dirty money, and less to the credit of those who pay it than those who exert it. Miss Brady handles the big scenes of this unusual story with all her usual ability. Added to the program will be a Pathé Review.

Tomorrow, Edith Roberts, in a South American story, "The Fire Cat."

Coming—Mable NoNemand in her big picture, "Molly O."
